Mr. Smith waxed eloquent in denouncing the squib as a wanton and unprovoked attack, and wound up by introducing a resolution declaring all members of the Missouri house to be men whose greatness should be recognized. The resolution was received with great applause and laughter, and was followed by a motion from Mr. Drabelis, of St. Louis, "its lay under the table." Another member moved that it be referred to the committee on militia, which the speaker declared was carried.

AN UNPLEASANT DISCOVERY. There is no little disappointment among many candidates over the discovery that the terms of the present incombents of the offices they seek will not be vacant for some months to come, and in two or three instances for a year or more. An idea seem to have prevailed that the terms of all officers holding under ap-pointment of the governor expired with his term of office, or were without any fixed term. They are beginning to see their error.

Mr. Kaiss laid this information before Attorney Porter, Mr. Dempsey's attorney, last night.

Mr. Kaiss has all along sided with the Carnegie company during the Homestead troubles. Dr. Cooper, he says, is not comparatively well known in Baltimore, as his practice is mostly among the poorer classes. He was surprised when he received Cooper's letter at the statement of his getting $500 from the Carnegie company for testifying against the defense. Mr. Kaiss at once changed his feelings toward the Carnegie company for testifying against the defense.
